

Can you apply the laws of science to the science of laws?

An exciting California Policy Fellowship opportunity!

The California Council on Science and Technology seeks engineers and PhD scientists to serve as legislative staff in the California State Legislature and provide unbiased scientific and technical input. If you are looking for a professional development opportunity that enables you to learn about public policy making and how science and technology are incorporated into decisions, we encourage you to apply for a one-year fellowship.

Applications for the 2014-2015 program will be accepted starting on December 2, 2013 and ending February 28, 2014. For information or to complete an on-line application, visit fellows.ccst.us.
